His Odd Cuff Button—Sommabulism Extraordinary—To Be Shot At.
Found the King's Feather.

"We are not running around looking for jobs at mending jewelry," said a salesman in a large Chestnut street jewelry house, "and we don't shrink with joy when such jobs come to us unsolicited. You wouldn't believe it, possibly, but we are not fond of assuming charge of anything to be mended unless it comes from a well known customer. The greatest trouble is due to the forgetfulness of strangers, who take a watch or a ring to a certain store to be fixed and neglect to remember the exact address of that store. You'd be surprised how many cases of that sort we have to bother so. Why, only the other day a man came in here and asked if we had finished the 'matt' for his odd cuff button. We hadn't seen his cuff button and told him so. He was indignant. 'What?' he yelled. 'Trying to beat me out of it?' Then he called as all kinds of names and threatened to bring suit against us. Well, I simply had to do the usual detective business and trace that lost cuff button. I got on my hat while the man was wrangling with the head of the firm and started up Chestnut street, making inquiries as I went. I finally found the odd cuff button three blocks away in a store that didn't look at all like a store. When I told the man where his button was he wouldn't believe me. 'Utterly impossible!' he said. However, he went out, and we haven't seen him since. That's one case out of many."—Philadelphia Record.

A Seagull Fisherman.
"Fried Barnet" is a wonderful fisherman," remarked Superintendent Curran of the New Orleans and Northwestern railway, recently speaker of the general freight and passenger agent of that road.

"I was just listening to a long account of the capture of deep sea cod fish at Guilford. He has just returned, and he said that Spanish mackerel were biting like mad at the port of Guilford. He caught in three hours about 1,000. A bolt of lightning struck his reel, melted the metal and threw him off his line into the water and exploded. Barnett said that when it exploded the explosion killed the entire school of mackerel and that within five minutes the surface of the bay was covered with dead fish. The only one of the lot which escaped was one on the end of his line. It had swallowed the hook. The electric fluid had struck the hook, forced the point out of its stomach, and the current, following the steel, had passed through the fish into the water. With the result, said Mr. Curran, that Barnett was a good fisherman, but I never thought he had attained a postmaster's degree in the art."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Sommabulism Extraordinary.
There has been much excitement and much discussion in Felton, Del., over a story of the remarkable somnambulism of Miss Chella Connor, the 19-year-old daughter of A. B. Connor, the station agent at Felton.

On a recent night Miss Connor retired, but fell asleep before she was dressed. She had been in the room but a short time when she walked out of the house and up the railroad track. None of the family saw her leave the house, and did not discover that she had gone until some time after. They were greatly alarmed and at once made a search for her. John Lynch, who knew the girl well, said that he saw her walking up the railroad track, but said nothing to her. The friends of the family at once started in pursuit of her, but were compelled to turn without her. They all night they searched the country with bicycles and carriages, but none of them thought to keep directly on the railroad track. Miss Connor walked straight up the track and when she awoke in the early morning she found that she was near Chesapeake, which is 17 miles from where she started. She at once took a train and went home.—Exchange.

To Be Shot At.
Two citizens of Chicago are about to start on a long tour of the mountainous districts of Mexico, which are supposed to be infested with bandits. Far different from ordinary travelers, they hope that the brigands of the forests will attack them, and, strange to add, they trust that these attacks will be from behind their backs. The motive of this strange journey is to recover the merits of a certain bullet proof cloth. The venturesome men will be clad in garments of this cloth, covering all of their bodies except their faces. They wish for attacks from the rear. The men expect to be gone eight months unless the bullets which they invite should compel them to come from the wrong direction and ingloriously end their careers.—New York Tribune.

Found the King's Feather.
The Gazette of Moscow says that while the king of Siam was passing through the streets of that city a white feather fell from the plume of his helmet and was picked up by the peasant Tonkianow, who is in the service of M. Koch. Tonkianow hastened to restore the feather to the chief of police. He was greatly surprised several days later upon receiving from this official, in the name of his Siamese majesty, a basket containing a portrait of the king and a massive gold chain decorated with a token of the same metal bearing the arms of Siam in enamel. Tonkianow has not yet recovered from this unexpected piece of good fortune.
